

15 April 2010

Dear Valued Customer,

Notification of Cable Price Adjustment

An increase in the cost of copper since our last price adjustment on 1st February 2010 has resulted in a need to review cable prices. Whilst the copper price has fluctuated, an increase of approximately 4% has been experienced since our last review.

As a result, Prysmian wish to advise that a cable price adjustment will take effect on Monday 17th May 2010. In addition, all current discounts and monthly pricing have been reviewed and adjusted accordingly to take effect Monday 19th April, 2010.

Metallic & fibre optic telecommunications cables are also being reviewed and further advice will follow on any required adjustment to the pricing of these products.

We thank you for your understanding and your continued support.

Yours sincerely,

Phil Cowan
